DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group 14 in the reply filed on 01 August 2005 is acknowledged.

Response to Amendment

2. The declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed 06 August 2004 has been considered but is ineffective to overcome the Gaspari, Ehlscheid, and Sabin references. Gaspari, Ehlscheid, and Sabin references are a statutory bar under 35 U.S.C. 102(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 64-68 and 70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 64, is "a support" in addition to "support" recited in claim 63?

In claims 65 and 70, "said surface of said substantially planar plate" lacks positive antecedent basis.

In claim 68, "said distance" and "said surface of said substantially planar plate" lack positive antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3724

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 48, 61-62, 68, 75, and 77 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gaspari (US 3,469,488).

Gaspari discloses all the recited elements of the invention including a portable, substantially rigid, substantially planar plate (11) including a back side (at 12) and at least one cutting edge (14, 14a) protruding from a front side/surface of the substantially planar plate. Regarding claim 68, col. 4, lines 17-22.

7. Claims 48, 61-67, and 77 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sabin (US 5,172,622).

Sabin discloses all the recited elements of the invention including a portable, substantially rigid, substantially planar plate including a back side (30) and at least one cutting edge (32) protruding from a front side/surface of the substantially planar plate. Regarding claim 63, a substantially rigid support (22). Regarding claim 64, as best understood, the support formed from a material softer than the material of the cutting edge (col. 4, lines 38-41). Regarding claims 65-67, as best understood, at least one ejection element comprising at least one compressible, resilient member (33, Figure 5).

8. Claims 48, 61-62, 68-70, and 75-76 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ehlscheid et al. (US 4,537,588).

Ehlscheid discloses all the recited elements of the invention including a portable, substantially rigid, substantially planar plate including a back side (1) and at least one cutting edge (1a) protruding from a front side/surface of the substantially planar plate. It is noted that the plate can be configured to be secured to a portable die cutting apparatus. Regarding claims 68-69, col. 3, line 27 (0.2 mm is about 0.01 inch). Regarding claim 70, col. 3, line 32. Regarding claim 75, the plate has dimensions for compact and portable storage. Regarding claim 76, col. 1, lines 44-47.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 71-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gaspari or Ehlscheid.

Gaspari or Ehlscheid discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for peripheral dimensions of the plate of about 2 inches by about 2 inches. One having ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to make the plate having different peripheral dimensions (e.g., 2" x 2") as taught by applicant's admitted prior art in order to accommodate sizes of indicia desired or sizes and shapes of cutouts desired. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955). It is noted that the common knowledge or well-known in the art statement of the previous office action has been taken to be admitted prior art because applicant either failed to traverse the examiner's assertion of official notice or that the traverse was inadequate.

Response to Arguments

11. Applicant's arguments filed 06 August 2004 with respect to the reference to Ehlscheid have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants contend that Ehlscheid does not teach "a substantially rigid, planar plate" since a die of Ehlscheid is 8 mils thick, which would be relatively flexible and has a curvature and is bent to include two inwardly extending edges. Applicants further contend that Ehlscheid does not teach the die configured be secured to a portable die cutting apparatus. In addition, applicants argue that Ehlscheid is limited to dies that have cutting edges with height of 0.012 inch, not the "about 0.015 inch to about 0.02 inch" height.

Ehlscheid teaches a plate thickness of about 0.2 mm, which is about 0.01 inch that is a thickness of applicant's claimed plate. Thus, if applicant's plate is substantially rigid, so is Ehlscheid's plate. Furthermore, Ehlscheid teaches the plate that is planar prior to bending (see col. 3, lines 38-41). In addition, the die of Ehlscheid can be configured to be secured to a portable die cutting apparatus. Moreover, a height of about 0.3 mm is about 0.015 inch.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3724

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
